JLC Automation Services is a specialist supplier and installer of commercial and residential automation systems, bringing together over fifty years' expertise gained in the industry through engineering, sales, product management and customer care.

We operate all over the UK, providing and installing the best automation equipment from our suppliers around the world. As an independent company, we are not bound to any manufacturer, giving us flexibility in sourcing high quality automated products and systems that are not only tailored to our individual customer's premises but also cost competitive.

We can provide component parts for all of our automated entry systems on a supply only basis, if required, and offer comprehensive aftercare and maintenance packages, including repairs and upgrades.

Our wealth of expertise and experience, combined with comprehensive training and a continuous professional development philosophy enables us to provide a high quality service that we continually strive to improve and enhance.

We offer national coverage through a network of surveyors and engineers who are manufacturer trained and ADSA qualified. The products we offer are compliant with all British and European standards and are designed to conform to DDA requirements.
